rectly Solved.ographers and to do whatever is necessary for a full and comprehensive examination and study of the subject.

Aid by Business Bodies.

Gratification and hope over political solidarity for the welfare of the railways at the opening of 1916 are intensified by the solid way in which the political leaders have been presented upon the teaching of the past. President Wilson prescribes no explicit remedy, but recommends a search for remedies. Chairman Newlands, of the senate committee, in his resolution calling for a joint committee of Congress avoids the promotion of any specific provision. A leading railway executive expressed the attitude of his colleagues when he pledged them to welcome a solution "however it may differ from any preconceived views."

It was in this spirit that Congress launched in 1908 the quest for light and learning which culminated in the federal reserve act. The chairman of the national monetary commission frankly disclaimed at the outset any views as to the terms of a bill and congratulated the country that thoughtful men had refrained from expression of opinion and had been "willing to await an examination of the information which we are to furnish." That commission laid the foundation for what followed by going whereever guidance might be sought, by hearing whomsoever might help and by employing specialists whose reports became permanent contributions. In identical fashion the Nowlands resolution would authorize the proposed committee to "appoint the necessary experts, clerks and stenthat the additions to plant would earn a return.

Collapse of Additions.
The result has been the collapse of additions and betterments. In the calendar year just ended, according to the returns of the Railway Age Gazette, the freight cars built were the fewest since 1904, with the single exception of 1911; the passenger cars the smallest since 1902, except 1908; the locomotives the smallest since 1898; the construction of new miles of first track about sixty-five per cent of the smallest previous year since 1893. It is the persistence of this trend that has developed political solidarity. Large tonnage and large earnings have not on this occasion blinded the public and public officials to the underlying financial problem.
The problem has before been vivid in periods of business depression, but it is now coming to be recognized as a

Miss Helen Herendeen dancing "The Spirit of Patriotism."

Miss Helen Herendeen, a sixteen-year-old American girl who attracted wide attention in European capitals before the war as an interpretative dancer, has originated a dance called "The Spirit of Patriotism." She rendered this dance for the first time at the recent patriotic ball in New York, which was attended by many civil and military officials.

THIS IS CARNATION DAY AT THE GRANDSouvenirs Are Given away to Mark Anniversary of the Theater.

Every lady who attends the Robinson Grand today will be presented with a carnation, as a token of remembrance of the third anniversary of this most popular place of amusement. On this eventful occasion Lou Tellegen, the international famous romantic star who for several years was leading man for Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, will be presented in a production of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company entitled "The Unknown." It is a picturization of I.
A. R. Wylie's widely read novel entitled "The Red Mirage."

"The Unknown" leads Mr. Tellegen into a romance of the desert. He portrays a young Englishman left penniless by disinheritance in an army post on the edge of the desert. A young American girl takes an interest in him. He and the colonel of the regiment which he joins under an assumed name are in love with the girl.
She saves the young Englishman from punishment and eventually elopes with him. In the unravelling of the story, a family relationship is found to exist between the young soldier and his colonel. Besides the star, the cast includes Theodore Roberts and Dorothy Davenport.

Tomorrow, the supreme drama of protest against the drug habit entitled "Black Fear," will be presented with Grace Elliston, Edward Brennan, Grace Valentine and a wonderful supporting cast.

Edward Jose, who is producing Kipling's "Light That Failed" for Pathe, expects shortly to take a large company South to finish the Sahara desert scenes required by the scenario. Mr. Jose filmed some of them on an island off Bridgeport, Conn., but the balance must be taken in more tropical surroundings.

Nobody can see Clyde Fitch's tremendous drama of the modern ways of the society of New York City entitled "The City," which is being shown at the Orpheum today without being impressed by its deep truth and sustained interest. From the instant that Hanker George Rand denies his own flesh and blood to the terrific and merciless climax, the big scenes that electrified all who have seen

NEW HOTEL

Railroad Company Plans to Build in New York City Will Cost $9,000,000.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The hotel which the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is planning to build on Seventh avenue opposite the Pennsylvania station here will cost with its site about $9,000,000, according to estimates made public today. It will be on the line of the new Seventh avenue subway. The building will stand back from the building line so as to give a plaza effect to the wide avenue. The building is to cost about $5,000,000 and the site $4,000,000. Work on the new hotel will begin immediately.

"PREPAREDNESS" IS SLOGAN OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL GIRLS

Charter members of girls' rifle club in a Washington high school.

Even the school girls of Washington have heard the preparedness slogan that has gone out from congress and they are preparing for war. This picture shows the charter members of a girls' rifle club formed at the Western high school, the first organization of its kind in Washington. Miss Helen Cummings, who stands in the center with her hands on the breech of her rifle, is the organizer and captain of the fair preparedness champions.

continuing menace in boom and slump alike. Political as well as industrial leaders have acquired a more abiding realization of the rock bottom facts.

The railway problem is as complex and difficult, if not more so, than was the currency, but business men are infinitely better acquainted with one another and with men in public life than they were ten or five years ago, and there is good reason to expect that the American people will adjust this situation as they have adjusted so many others, great and small.
